A STATEMENT has been prepared at the Treasury Department which shows the total estimated receipts of the Govern-, ment for the fiscal year ending Jone 30, 1883, under the operations of the new tariff net, to be $405 000,000. Of this amount $220,000,000 is the estimated To which add capital and depos revenue from customs, $143,500,000 from internal revenue, and $41,500,000 from miscellaneous sources. The revenues for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1882, were as follows: From customs, $220,410,000: miscellaneous sources, $36.618,000. Total. $403 525,000.

GERMANY having lately determined to adopt the principle of repeating arms for the infantry. France is pretty sure to follow in her wake. A committee has already been appointed, under the Presidency of Gen. Damont. The decision of Germany was to adopt, not a newarm. but a remarkable magazine or charger. which can be kept out of the way under ordinary conditions and only used at critical moments, when there is need of the greatest possible development of fire. As the German army will soon be completely equipped with the new arrangement, and France is only appointing a committee to choose hers, the disproportion which already exists between the strength of the two military powers will shortly be even more prominent than it

THE N. Y. SUN.

NEW YORK, 1883

More people have read The Sundaring the year just now jussing than ever before since it was first printed. No other newspaper published on this side of the earth has been bought and read in any year by so many men and women.

We are creditably informed that people buy, read, and like The Sun for the following reasons, among others:

Because its news columns present in attractive form and with the greatest possible accuracy whatever has interest for human-kind; the events, the deeds, and missieeds, the wisdom, the philosophy, the notable folly, the solid sense, the improving nonsense—all the news of the busiest world an present revolving in space.

the news of the busiest world at present revolving in space.

Hecause people have learned that in its remarks concerning persons and affairs Taxasiva makes a practice of telling them the exact truth to the best of ability three hundred and sixty-free days in the year, before election as well as after, about the whales as well as the small sh, in the face of dissent as plainly and fearlessly as when supported by general approval. The Sun has absolutely no purposes to serve, sare the information of its readers and the furtherance of the common good.

Recause it is everybody's newspaper. No man is so humble that The Sun is indifferent to his welfare and his rights. No man, no as octation of men, is powerful enough to be exempt from the strict application of its as-ociation of men, is powerful enough to be exempt from the strict application of its principles of right and wrong.

Bec use in politics it has fought for a desen years, without intermission and sometimes almost alone among newspapers, the fight that has resulted in the recent overwhelming popular verdict against. Robesonsism and for honest government. No matter what party is in power, Thu Sun stands and will continue to stand like a ruck for the interests of the people against the ambition of bosses, the encroachments of monopolists, and the dishonest schemes of public robbers.

All this is what we are told almost daily by our friends. One man holds that Tam Sun is the best religious newspaper syrt published, because its Christianity is undiluted with cant. Another holds that it is the best religious newspaper grintad, because it has already whipped half of the rascals out of that party, and the proceedings against the other half with undeminished vigor. A third believes it to be the best magazine of general literature in existence, because its readers miss nothing worthy of notice that is evernet miss nothing worthy of notice that is evernet miss nothing worthy of notice that is evernet that party, and the proceedings against the other half with undeminished vigor. A third believes it to be the best magazine of general literature in existence, because its renders miss nothing worthy of notice that is current in the world of thought. So every friend of THE SUN discovers one of its many sides that appeals with particular force to his individual liking.

If you already know THE SUN, you will observe that in 1883 it is a little better than ever before. If you do not already know THE SUN, you will not it to be a mirror of all human activity, a storehouse of the cholesat products of common seans and imaginatum, a mainstea for the cause of honest government, a sentine for genuine Leffersonian Democracy, a scourse for wickedness of every steeless, as and uncommonly good investment for the coming year.
